

WHO WE

ARE

Veteran Owned. Family Owned.
...and changing the way we think about clothing.

Apparel Impact began its journey in 2014 as a textile recycler and community support company based in New Hampshire. In just five years, the company became the fastest-growing textile recycler in the northeastern United States, expanding from a small regional provider to a multi-state business with over 1,300 partners and customers, including municipalities, small businesses, non-profit organizations, government agencies, and Fortune 500 companies. To date, Apparel Impact has diverted over 60 million pounds of clothing from landfills and has provided clothing, shoes, and other resources to more than 19,300 people and families.

PROBLEM?

The U.S. generates 17 million tons of textile waste every year. Only 15% of this textile waste is recycled and the other 85% ends up in our local landfills; polluting our environment, our water sources and air. With fast fashion becoming the new normal for clothing manufacturers, this waste problem will continue to grow.

WHAT'S THE SOLUTION?

Apparel Impact provides each community they serve with the opportunity to recycle their clothing, shoes, accessories and other textiles; which helps reduce textile waste, creates local jobs, provides less fortunate families affordable clothing and supports U.S. Veteran causes in the Northeastern United States.
